

TWO GERMAN ARMIES IN DISORDERLY FLIGHT

Russians Hurl Germans Back to the Bug River

Nine-Mile Gain Is Made Through Enemy Defenses

Romanian Front Again in Action

By W. W. HERCHER
LONDON, Tuesday, Aug. 22 (AP)—Russian troops yesterday hurled the Germans back onto the Bug river northeast of Warsaw in a nine-mile advance through strong Axis defenses guarding the Polish capital, but the north other Soviet forces suffered a setback near the gulf of Riga and the Germans regained contact with their two stranded Baltic armies.

The Germans hurled more than 400 tanks into the struggle in Western Latvia, and the Russians abandoned positions which an Associated Press Moscow dispatch early today said enabled the Nazis to link up with Col. Gen. Georg Lindemann's forces to the east.

Simultaneously, Berlin said that the long-quiet Romanian front again was in action with the Russians hurling 150,000 men against their lines near Iasi and Tighina. The Russians gained one-mile in these attacks aimed at "crushing the whole of our Dniestr river positions," Berlin said.

White Russians Advance

Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's First White Russian army, the Moscow bulletin said, shattered a thirty-mile Axis defense line based on the Bialystok-Warsaw railway, and plunged on to within two miles of the Bug river, capturing fifty localities.

Reds Admit Reverse

In Latvia the Russians admitted a reverse with the abandonment of Tukums, thirty-three miles east of Riga, after heavy German counterattacks. This is in the corridor which Gen. Ivan Bagration's First Baltic army had established from Lithuania north to the Gulf of Riga, hemming in possibly 200,000 Germans.

In Eastern Latvia and adjoining Estonia two other powerful Soviet armies were striking westward toward Riga and northward through Estonia toward the Baltic sea, chopping up the German forces which Berlin is trying to rescue.

Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's Third Baltic army yesterday captured thirty localities.

Advance on Riga from the east

Advancing on Riga from the east Gen. Andrei I. Yermolenko's Second Baltic army seized Gostini, only one mile from Pliavinas rail junction, and sixty-five miles southeast of Riga. Other units farther north were within fifty-five miles of Riga after Sunday's capture of Ergli.

The Soviet Baltic fleet, suddenly going into action in the Baltic sea, Estonia, sank four German destroyers.

DRAGUIGNAN, SOUTHERN FRANCE, Aug. 20 (AP)—(Delayed)—One of the biggest fish yet caught in the invasion of Southern France is a 71-year-old man identified as Fernand Bouisson, barrel-shaped, bald-headed, goateed former president of the Chamber of Deputies.

He was found hiding at the home of a friend four miles from St. Raphael and was jailed pending judicial procedure.

For safety, he was imprisoned at Draguignan, and this morning the French Partisans paraded him and other prisoners for the benefit of the French Information Service movie cameramen.

PLAN FOR HULL CONFERENCE

Reconversion May Be Limited To Single Year

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Apparently intent upon ridding business and industry of government controls as quickly as possible when peace comes, the House Ways and Means Committee today decided tentatively to limit to one year the life of reconversion machinery now being set up by Congress.

May End Earlier

Moreover, the amendment, offered by Rep. Carlson (R-Kan.), stipulates that the "Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion" shall cease earlier than one year after the end of hostilities if Congress by resolution declares no emergency exists that requires the functions of such an office.

Other Washington developments geared to postwar planning include:

1. Prospects for a congressional vacation starting on Labor day glimmered, as conflicting views in the House and Senate all by stymied action on reconversion legislation. The House and a Senate committee debated versions of a bill to dispose of billions of surplus war property with the objective of getting the government the best return with the least possible adverse effects on private enterprise.
2. Rep. Weiss (D-Pa.) offered a bill to make subject to state any local tax laws all surplus war property sold, assigned or leased by the government after the war.

Report Next Week

4. The Senate Military committee working on surplus property disposal, approved an amendment by Senator Hill (D-Ala.) to give the War Food Administration exclusive authority over disposal of agricultural commodities.

French Interior Forces Fighting Inside Paris

LONDON, Aug. 21 (AP)—French forces of the interior now are operating inside Paris, the Allies announced today, and the capital is liberating itself from the Nazis who, during the day, reported "violent battles" within the city.

As the French took up the task of ridding Paris of the Germans the Allies gave details of arms deliveries to the FFI deep within France by means of big planes both before and after the invasion.

The Allied announcement said the Americans by day and the British by night delivered thousands of tons of supplies to the French, supplies the Partisans now are using in their uprising against the Germans.

French Hold Pyrenees

From the Spanish border came a report that uniformed officers of the French army had taken possession of the international bridge at Hendaye, completing French occupation of the entire Pyrenees.

A DNB broadcast said the fighting in Paris was led by "French civilians and Terrorists sent in by the Allies."

Axis reports said American tank columns were bypassing the capital which suggests the Allies might leave Paris' actual liberation to the French.

There was no indication of what the Germans were doing to quell the Paris uprising since a Sunday midnight broadcast by the Nazi commandant warning the population that harsh measures would be used.

Problem for Germans

Grounds for German disgust was contained in the communiqué of General Joseph Pierre Koenig, leader of the French forces of the interior, which said that the whole of Haute Savoie had been liberated and that Lyon was almost completely under control of the FFI.

Although Allied planes have been flying over Maquis areas of the French interior for months dropping thousands of tons of arms, ammunition and other supplies by parachute to the resistance forces, these important operations were not announced officially until today.

Hundreds of American and RAF heavy bombers on numerous occasions carried tons of guns and ammunition to the French underground, it was stated. Deliveries are still being carried out on regular schedule.

When the day of the Normandy invasion arrived there were thousands of Frenchmen living in strictly disciplined, highly organized and finely trained military groups.

They cut and recut German communications and ambushed German convoys, spreading terror and death.

Gen. Koenig Named To Govern Paris

LONDON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A broadcast by radio Bretagne said tonight that Gen. Charles De Gaulle had named Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, commander of Paris when the city is liberated. Radio Bretagne is a French station operated by the French Committee of National Liberation.

force still in France—already had been brought to battle.

The destruction of this army, guardian of the rocket coast now only ninety miles north of Patton's bridgehead, is the next order of business on the Allied agenda.

Battle Near Vernon
The enemy fought back fiercely too before Vernon, fifteen miles northwest of Mantes, where Patton's tanks were running along the Seine's west bank are running into the Germans falling back from the disasters in Normandy. In the area of Versailles, western gate of Paris, and along a new Allied front of twenty miles southeast of the capital the resistance was negligible, underscoring Montgomery's message to his troops today that their victory in Northern France was "definite, complete and decisive."

The arrival of Gen. Charles De Gaulle at Cherbourg indicated that the fall of Paris itself could not be long delayed.

"There will be many surprises in store for the fleeing remnants," Montgomery said, and the official silence cloaking operations in the Mantes bridgehead and around Paris kept the harried German command guessing what these surprises might be.

American patrols raced to Corbeil, Melun and Fontainebleau, fifteen, twenty-five and thirty-five miles southeast of Paris, Sunday in position to where northeast around Paris, strike for the German frontier, or smash east and sever all German communications to Southern France.

Only fifty-five miles northeast of them lay the Marne city of Chateau-Thierry, a bloody battleground for untold American expeditionary forces in the First World War, and seventy-five and eighty-five miles beyond were the battlefields of Soissons and Reims.

euple of sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, irrespective of size and strength, as partners in a system of order under law, must constitute the foundation of any future international organization for the maintenance of peace and security.

Reasserting Hull's statement, Cadogan said that "even Hitler has surely learnt by now, what we have ourselves long known, that it is not by riding roughshod over the smaller powers that the vital interests of the larger can in the long run best be protected."

Grumkyo gave greater stress to the necessity for resources to check aggression, and thus to the primary burden on the large powers, but he said that all big and small freedom-loving nations can take part in the peace agency.

Flames Destroy Dwelling; Eight Made Homeless

A family of eight was made homeless last evening at 7 o'clock when fire, believed to have started from an explosion of a kitchen oil stove, destroyed a one-story frame dwelling at Bowman's Addition.

Carl Perrin, owner of the property, was doing some work in a nearby field and his wife was answering a telephone call at the home of a neighbor, when their children, sitting on the front porch, discovered the interior of the dwelling in flames. Robert Flowers, a passing motorist, drove to the fire station a half mile away to send in the alarm.

Upon arrival of the first unit of the Bowman's Addition Volunteer Fire Company, flames were shooting through the roof. Another unit of the same department, two pieces of equipment from the Corriganville Volunteer Fire and one piece of equipment from the Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene after the flames had gained considerable headway.

Chief John R. Greise of the Bowman's Addition company, said it was the first house totally destroyed by fire since the volunteer company was established in that community.

The dwelling was covered by insurance but the furniture was not insured.

Members of the Perrin family were given shelter in a two-room vacant house for the night. Neighbors donated beds, clothing and food to the mother, father and six children made homeless as a result of the fire which destroyed all of the clothing they owned save that which they wore.

Man Sleeps on Railroad Track; Jailed as Drunk

Accused of drunkenness, Albert Coleman, Cumberland, was committed to three days in jail when given a hearing in police court yesterday morning. Officer John Snyder, who arrested Coleman at 11:55 a. m. Saturday, said the man was sleeping between the rails of the Western Maryland railway near the Alconquin hotel and that a locomotive had to be brought to a stop to keep from running over him.

Arrested early this morning on a drunkenness charge, Goldie Garlitz, Goethe street, was fined $3 at a hearing in police court. He also was arrested by Officer Snyder and was said to be standing on the Baltimore street bridge preparing to jump into Willis creek when he took her into custody.

Accused of drunk and disorderly conduct, John J. Daunis and Goldie Albright, both of Philadelphia, will be given hearings this morning in police court. The couple were arrested at 10:40 o'clock last night on Front street by Officer C. W. Thompson. Police said they created a disturbance.

Many Germans Killed
"One German who gave up as soon as he could find somebody to take him prisoner said we had destroyed seventy-five per cent of his company," said Sgt. Leon Moss, Canton, Ill.

This was subsequently confirmed by higher officers.
The crossing of the Seine was made on the largest bridge of its type constructed by the American army in France during this war. It was completed six hours from the time the first pontoon was floated on the turbid, tricky waters.

The first trestle bridge thrown across by combat engineers was built in rain and midnight blackness after infantry troops had crossed the river in rubber assault boats.

I made a tour of our bridgeheads across the Seine this afternoon and failed to see a single German. The Nazis had not had time to build blockhouses, pillboxes or other military barriers. I had an eerie feeling driving past forests which offered natural positions for German emplacements and yet finding no sign of Nazi defense.

The inspection emphasized the original German defenses in France consisted of nothing more than a battle crust.

News of the attack on the big enemy cruiser came from Chungking, where Major General Claire L. Chennault's Fourteenth air force disclosed that a B-24 Liberator found the warship in the China sea Saturday, getting three direct hits and a probable, and watching it sink during the fourth bombing run.

Four Fortresses Lost
Four of the Superfortresses were lost in the daylight mission against Yawata, but the Twentieth air force claimed the destruction of fifteen enemy fighters, plus thirteen probably destroyed and twelve damaged.

The follow-up night mission met "rather light" enemy opposition, with anti-aircraft fire only moderate and inaccurate, and lost none of the Superfortresses. However, only "fair" bombing results were claimed for the night attack on the basis of preliminary reports.

ers, each of 1,200 tons, the Moscow communiqué said. The Germans lost 600 men which had manned these ships, all built in 1942 and 1943, and 107 German sailors were picked up from the water.

The Germans, copying Allied amphibious operations in the west, also had available Baltic naval units in action along the Gulf of Riga, shelling Russian shore positions in an effort to keep open the corridor which Berlin says now has been established.

LEGION WILL PROTEST WESTVACO FORFEIT WIN

Phil Fleming, manager of the Cumberland American Legion baseball club, announced last night that he will lodge a protest with Ben-Mar League officials today as the result of Westvaco claiming Sunday's game at Westernport for forfeit.

According to Frankie Sullivan, Westvaco pilot, the Pulpitmen waited until 4:20 before claiming the scheduled battle. At that time, Sullivan said most of the fans had gone home and that the Legion had only seven players available. The game was to have started at 3 o'clock.

Fleming points out that the winning umpire is the umpire-in-chief and that no official action was taken Sunday by the chief arbiter. The car carrying Legion players and the Legion umpire to Westernport broke down near Cresaptown and Fleming in pointing out the uncertainty of wartime travel, is hopeful league officers will order the game played at a future date.

The navy's decision was disclosed to the Senate War Investigating committee at a hearing at which naval officers also reported they were taking steps looking to the disposal of a surplus of about 3,000,000 pounds of aluminum and 700 small boats acquired in the early stages of the war.

Fairchild Company Wants Many Men

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Aug. 21 (P)—Fairchild Aircraft Company and company officials reported today an immediate need for several hundred unskilled workers to aid in production of a large number of new cargo-carrying airplanes at the company's new plant.

"We have an immediate need for unskilled workers who will be trained especially for the new jobs at standard trainee rates," Paul Pitez, employment manager of Fairchild, said.

He stated that the company planned to increase its working force by several hundred men and women each month and that although most of the unskilled jobs which now are open are for sheet metal workers, the company also will hire skilled tool inspectors, designers and layout men as well as draftsmen and machinists.

Robot Weather Stations in Use

BALTIMORE, Aug. 21—(P)—The War department today authorized release of the fact that robot weather stations are in operation for Allied land, sea and air attacks.

The locations and number of stations were not given, except the fact that Greenland robots were important in forecasting the English Channel weather. It also was announced that there are similar robots in the tropics.

The stations are radio depots, which automatically send temperatures, humidity and wind data. They require servicing but they operate for months at a time without the presence of human beings.

They had to be designed to operate in extreme cold and to resist termites, fungi and other tropical pests. Special power and timing equipment also had to be designed.

The robot weathermen are the product of the Friez Instrument division of Bendix Aviation Corporation, which made the announcement today with both army and navy permission.

Victory Message From Montgomery Hailed by Allies

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Spurred by an exultant victory message from their British field commander, General Montgomery, Allied forces have spurred across the battle of Northeastern France even before liquidation of the forces south and west of the river has been completed.

Northwestern France, General Montgomery said, "the victory has been definite, complete and final" and it marked "the beginning of the end of German military domination of France."

Must Destroy Germans

"We must now complete the destruction of such of his (the enemy's) forces as are available to be improved," he added. "After knowing what has happened to their army in Northwest France, it is unlikely that these will come to us, so we will go to them."

That Montgomery order of the day to his troops lay more significant even than in his startling concluding statement that: "The end of the war is in sight, let us finish the business in record time."

The pattern is already clear on war maps. It can be traced to the bridgehead east of the Seine established by the American Third Army in the Mantes region north of Paris.

Paris Half Surrounded

The second Seine crossing came at Fontainebleau on the right of broad river bank position south of Paris. Paris is now more than half enveloped from the northwest to the southeast.

In effect, those gaps in the Seine front offer two roads to the channel coast hinterland from which enemy robot bombs are aimed at England. They also represent successive potential entrapment threats.

Meanwhile, Canadian crossing of the Touques river above Lisieux broke the last German outpost front guarding the lower Seine, posing a real threat to the big channel of Le Havre.

Montgomery's statement that there were further "surprises" in store for the fore hints at either additional landing operations in the channel area or possibly use of General Eisenhower's recently created army.

Homemakers Are Entertained By 4-H Members

Entertainment by members of the LaVale 4-H Club featured the meeting of the LaVale Homemakers Club yesterday afternoon at the firemen's hall. The program which included demonstrations, talks and musical selections was announced by June Rodda.

Hot chocolate was demonstrated by Margaret Twigg and Ina Hughes. Margaret Long demonstrated two salads, one of cottage cheese and tomatoes and the other sliced green pepper and cottage cheese. Elizabeth Long and Joan Anna Spross demonstrated making ice cream. All were in white.

Robert Dety told of the Boys 4-H Clubs, which began with the rural people and later were organized for the children of the urban community.

In speaking of the projects of the 4-H he discussed the Victory gardens the boys have; their various achievements; and the trips they have won by their achievements.

Lois Henschman outlined the program and activities at the Girls 4-H camp at Pleasant Valley, this summer.

The musical program included several instrumental selections with Elizabeth Long at the piano, Joan Anna Spross playing the marimba; and her brother, John, the accordion. Elizabeth Long also sang.

"Little Old Lady," John Spross presented some of his slight of hand tricks, including making handkerchiefs change color, and playing cards change to boxes.

Miss Margaret T. Loar 4-H leader, announced that members of the LaVale club won $78 in prizes with their exhibits at the fair last week.

She also praised Mrs. Charles Long and Mrs. John Spross, 4-H Club councilors for their co-operation with the club. Miss Maude A. She also asked several of the children to exhibit the dresses and aprons they were wearing, which they had made. Mrs. J. C. Driver presided and Mrs. Willis R. Hodges gave a routine report.

Following the program the homemakers were served ice cream by the 4-H club members.

Allied Gains in Europe Cause Apprehension in Stock Market

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—(AP)—The stock market turned a bit lame today as the Allied sweep in Europe brought a slight victory nearer and revived some extent apprehension over economic problems when the Nazis finally crash.

While scattered utilities and industrials that stand to benefit from the conversion to normal operations attracted mild bidding, leading groups of last week among steel and motors retreated after a fairly steady start.

Transfers totalled 828,020 shares compared with 1,151,520 Friday.

Clinging to advances were Englewood Public Service, which touched a peak for 1944; Consolidated Edison; North American, Electric Power; and Light, Sears Roebuck, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Philip Morris and Johns-Manville. Casualties included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, United States Rubber, American Can, du Pont, United Aircraft, Eastman Kodak and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Forward curb leasers were Electric Bond and Share, American Gas, and Atlantic Sugar and Monogram pictures. Turnover here was 288,900 shares versus 306,080 in the preceding session.

Chicago Grain Market

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—(AP)—A highly speculative trade in rice turned bullish today and prices skyrocketed as much as 2½ cents a bushel from the day's low. The advance strengthened all other futures markets and all quotations were well above the previous close.

Local traders sold rice at the opening but switched to the buying side when prices held firm. At the close offerings had dried up despite the fact trade sources said distilling demand for rice had eased off. Local stocks decreased 289,000 bushels last week.

Arrest of Three Youths Clears Up Automobile Thefts

Boy Signs Statement Admitting He Helped Steal Twelve Cars

The theft of twelve automobiles from Cumberland streets and parking lots since August 11 has been cleared up with the arrest of three local youths, Lt. Detective R. Emmett Flynn said last night.

A statement signed by a 14-year-old Linden street youth indicated that he and George Stewart, 19, 535 North Centre street, took eleven cars and were aided in the theft of another by Dale Albright, 16, of 218 Columbia street, Lt. Flynn said.

The officer added that the youths took short rides on the Baltimore Pike, Oldover road or to Presburg before returning the cars to Cumberland and abandoning them.

Two Arrested Sunday

Stewart and the 14-year-old boy were arrested Sunday night by Lt. Flynn and Officer J. Carl Stouffer following the theft of the automobile of George W. Geatz, 158 North Mechanic street, for the second time within a week. Albright was arrested at 5:20 p. m. yesterday by Lt. Flynn and Officer John G. Powers.

All three of the youths are held in the city jail and will be taken to the office of the state's attorney this morning for further disposition.

On the night of August 11, the youth's statement revealed, he and Stewart took the automobile of Robert Beall, 130 Harrison street, from in front of his home and later parked the car on North Mechanic street. On the day, it stated, the two youths took the automobile of C. W. Miller, Ellerslie, from in front of a North Centre street drug store and eventually abandoned it on Park street.

Geatz's Car Taken

The statement disclosed that on August 12 the automobile of Lewis P. Mazer, Jr., Sand Patch, Pa., was taken from North Centre street, later being recovered by Maryland State Police. Two days later, Geatz's car was taken for the first time from a North Mechanic street service station and was found abandoned by Officer F. A. Shuber.

On August 17, according to the statement, the two youths took the automobile of Fred Banister, Algonquin hotel, from its parking place on South Centre street, and later abandoned it on Hanover street.

The automobile of A. B. Fox, Port Cumberland hotel, also was stolen August 17, the statement revealed, and was taken from the Port Cumberland parking lot on South Liberty street. This car was abandoned later near Central YMCA.

Albright joined the other two youths on August 18, the statement declared, to help in the theft of the car of Howard J. McIntyre, 649 Frederick street. The car was taken from in front of McIntyre's home and later was abandoned in the rear of 512 Frederick street. The same day, the statement added, the two youths took the automobile of Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, from in front of city hall and abandoned it later near Central YMCA.

Three Stolen Saturday

This past Saturday the youths took the automobile of Marvin C. Bowers, Spring Gap, from a Cumberland street and left it on Harrison street near the American Legion home, the statement continued, adding that a second car also was taken. The signer of the statement pointed out, however, that he does not remember where it was taken or abandoned.

The third automobile taken Saturday was the car of Joseph Hoban, stolen from near a North Mechanic street restaurant, the statement said. This car later was recovered by Officer D. J. Racey, Sunday, the two youths took the Geatz car again, according to the statement, and Officer C. W. Thompson recovered it at Maryland avenue and Harrison street a short time before the youths were arrested and held for investigation.

Council To Study Improvements at Lake Gordon

An order, introduced by Commissioner William J. Edwards at the meeting of the mayor and council yesterday, authorizing the employment of Whitman, Reardon, and Associates, Baltimore engineers, to prepare plans and specifications for a sedimentation basin at Lake Gordon was tabled for a week of study at the request of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

The proposal, which would pay the Baltimore firm $6,000, was recommended by Charles J. Bruce, water works superintendent, in order that the preliminary work can be completed as soon as possible after the war. Directors of the Potomac Creek Water Company made the same suggestion last March.

According to Bruce, every engineer visiting Lake Gordon has expressed wonder at the lack of sedimentation basin. The water in Port Hill reservoir has been muddy for two weeks and is muddy every spring, he said. Although Cumberland can get along without such a basin and a second water line from Lake Gordon to the city is more necessary, the water will not be clear, nor will it meet federal standards until a basin is constructed, Bruce said.

Divorce Granted

An absolute divorce from Stephen Trigonopoulos has been granted in circuit court to Mrs. Della Florence Trigonopoulos in a decree signed by Associate Judge William A. Huster. Mrs. Trigonopoulos was awarded the custody of their two minor children and her husband was ordered to pay $30 monthly for their support. Mrs. Trigonopoulos was represented by Thomas Lohr Richards and her husband was represented by H. G. Shores.

Local Servicemen Invited To Visit County in England

Three Cumberland servicemen were extended greetings and invited to visit Cumberland county, England, by Charles Roberts, chairman of the Cumberland County Council.

The Cumberlanders were: Pfc. William Vandegrift, The Dingle, Cpl. John P. Zimmerman, 520 Holladay street, and Lt. David H. Murrie, 229 Baltimore avenue.

Mayor Thomas S. Post received the letter, which also extended greetings to Cumberland, Md., yesterday.

Allegany County Public Schools To Open Sept. 7

LaSalle Term Starts Same Day; Teachers' Meeting Dates Announced

Public schools of Allegany county will open for the 1944-45 term just two weeks from Thursday, Dr. Charles L. Kopp, superintendent, announced yesterday.

Single sessions will be held from 9 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon on the first two days, September 7 and 8, and full sessions will start Monday, September 11.

The annual teachers' meetings will be held in the auditorium of Fort Hill high school, Wednesday, September 6, commencing at 9:30 a. m. Morning and afternoon sessions are scheduled.

The full meeting of the Allegany County Teachers' Association will be held Saturday, September 2, at 10 a. m. in the auditorium of Allegany high school. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and reports of committees will be heard. Harold C. Wickard, of Allegany high school, is president of the association. Committee chairmen are: Miss Nellie Willison, Fort Hill, resolutions; O. B. Boughton, Fort Hill, legislative; and Robert C. Morris, Fort Hill, teacher welfare.

Brother Dacian Stephen, principal, yesterday announced that LaSalle high school will open its term on Thursday, September 7. Enrollment of new students is now under way and will continue through September 5. Boys who were students last year will be enrolled September 6.

New students can register by communicating with Brother Stephen either at the school or faculty residence, 114 Hanover street.

Brother Stephen, who has spent recent weeks in study and rest at the New Jersey seashore, will assume the principalship of the North Centre street school for the ninth consecutive year.

CERTAIN CIVILIAN GOODS TO BE MADE UNDER WPB ORDER

Under the terms of the "Spot Authorization" order just issued by the War Production Board, it is not anticipated for the time being that any large increases in civilian production will be possible. A. H. Cooper, manager of the combined Charleston, Huntington and Clarksburg district WPB offices said today.

Later, however, the combined Charleston district WPB offices will be in a position to authorize production of certain civilian items, provided the materials, manpower and facilities not needed for war production are available. Cooper explained. The new regulation sets a pattern for the start of orderly reconversion when the time comes for normal peacetime operation.

Full instructions for the reconversion planning order is available at the Charleston, Huntington and Clarksburg district office, which serves fifty-one counties in West Virginia, two in Ohio, four in Kentucky and two in Maryland, Cooper said. This information includes the list of items which may be manufactured and instructions on procedure to be followed in filing applications through the district WPB offices.

The new WPB provisions conform to the ruling of War Mobilization Director, James F. Byrnes, prohibiting incursions of production in classified areas where it has not been ascertained that labor for such activity is available. Under no circumstances will additional civilian production be authorized if it would divert labor or facilities from war or essential civilian production, Cooper declared.

CUB J-3 WILL BE USED TO INSTRUCT STUDENTS HERE

Li Virgil Parker of the Civil Air Patrol, announces his new ship arrived at the Cumberland airport Saturday, and instruction of CAP and private students can now be resumed. The ship, a 1941 C-35, horsepower was brought by Lt. Parker and Floyd Price, and was one of the War Training Service planes used in Flushing, N. Y., and Puerto Rico, before the Queen City Aviation Company to purchase the plane.

Approximately fifty persons are receiving instruction in flying from Li. Parker. Of these seven will make their solo flights this week. Li. Parker said. The plane, previously used in the war, was wrecked by Edward Ruchel several weeks ago.

The seven who have completed the eight hours of flying, minimum required by the CAP, are Roy Hunt, Dr. Robert Ruerwein, Dr. Melvin Goff, Howard Haly, all on the staff of the Allegany Balistics Laboratory; Mrs. Ruth Haly, William E. Lee, employed at the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad; and Royce Johnson, Ridgeley, employed with a contracting company. The latter will be first to solo, having made arrangements for it with Li. Parker on Wednesday. They will all take off from the old Mexico Farms airport.

The first five are members of the local Squadron 331, CAP.

At least five other students will be ready for the solo flights in a week or so, Li. Parker said last evening.

WITH RESCUE FLEET—Shown in the above picture is a Cumberland coast guardsman, and his crew mates aboard a coast guard rescue cutter, member of a fleet of sturdy eight-three-footers which saved more than 1,100 Allied invaders from perishing in the English Channel in the critical days of the assault on Normandy. The coast guardsmen are pictured off the French coast. They are—BACK ROW, (left to right) Frank Capo, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Marlen Robb, Rockville, N. Y.; Lonnie W. Jackson, Gloster, Miss.; Wesley C. Mayor Post Will Give Certificates To "Y" Tourists

Exercises Are Scheduled Thursday; C. & P. Visit Is Listed for Today

Mayor Thomas S. Post will present certificates to boys who have participated in seven of the ten summer educational tours sponsored by the Central YMCA, at exercises Thursday morning in city hall.

The certificates will be in lieu of felt "Y" hiking emblems which will be presented to the boys on awards' night.

Functions of the city government will be explained by the mayor and council at 9:30 a. m., prior to the presentation ceremonies.

Thursday's tour will be the tenth and final of the summer series which was opened with a visit to Central Fire station and followed by trips to the police station, Queen City dairy, Queen City Ice Company, United States post office, Coca Cola Bottling Works, Crystal Laundry Company, Baltimore and Ohio railroad shops and Community Baking Company plant.

Visit C. & P. Today

The ninth tour of the series is scheduled for today at 10 a. m. when the boys will visit the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company through arrangements made by Joseph H. Cromwell, manager.

Oscar I. Bergstrom, associate general secretary of the Central YMCA, has announced an essay contest on the subject "What I Have Learned from Educational Trips Conducted by the YMCA" will be held in the near future.

An average of forty boys have made the eight trips conducted to date, Bergstrom said.

Community Chest Budget Committee Members Are Named

The budget committee of the Cumberland Community Chest has been named preparatory to submission of budgets for 1945 by the member agencies, Harold W. Smith, chest president, announced yesterday.

Named to the committee are: James W. Bishop, chairman; Mrs. Emma Everstine, J. H. Brown, Clarence Lippel, C. E. Stutzman and Harold C. Wickard.

Smith said all member agencies are urged to have their 1945 budgets turned in at the chest office before September 15.

These figures, he added, will help chest officials determine the general drive to be held in November in conjunction with the National War Fund campaign.

CPL. J. R. SMITH IS IN SOLOMONS

Cpl. James R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Smith, 638 Hill Top drive, is now stationed on Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands with the army service forces, according to a recent dispatch from that area. He is serving as company personnel clerk.

After entering the army in February 1943, Cpl. Smith was sent to Camp Sibert, Ala., where he qualified as a marksman on the rifle range. He was promoted to the rank of corporal in July, 1943, and went overseas last February.

Cpl. Smith, a graduate of Fort Hill high school with the class of 1941, was president of the student council there and was a member of the swimming team. Prior to entering the armed forces he was employed in the coal billing office of the B. and O. railroad.

Two brothers are also in the service. Sgt. Harry A. Smith is with the army air forces at Dyersburg, Tenn., and Pvt. Neil Smith is stationed in the South Pacific area with the amphibious engineers. Cpl. Smith's wife, the former Betty O'Hara, is living with his parents.

Committee Will Continue To Seek Detention Home

A juvenile detention home is still being sought by the Allegany County Co-ordinating Council's committee in spite of the refusal of Lonaconing residents to approve a proposal to lease the former NYA building for a home, according to Mrs. A. M. Lichtenstein, chairman of the committee.

Mrs. Lichtenstein said that her group is convinced, in view of the attitude of the community, that Lonaconing is not the place for such a project. She said that they would look further for another property, and, if necessary, plan to help county commissioners secure permission to build a home.

Power Baler Will Be Purchased for Local Wastepaper

Aid of Rural Schools Asked in Drives; Next Canvass Starts August 29

Purchase of a $4,500 power baler for the preparation of commercial wastepaper into bales of 500 pounds or more for shipment to war plants was approved last evening at a meeting of the Allegany County Salvage Committee at the home of W. Donald Smith, chairman.

At the present time small balers are being used to prepare the loose paper collected from mercantile establishments but they are deemed inadequate as they require one man a half hour to produce 100 pounds of baled paper.

It was pointed out at the meeting that when paper is properly baled it takes less space in box cars and this space is valuable during the present emergency.

Due to the acute need for wastepaper, the committee discussed ways and means of obtaining more from outside the city which are not canvassed on the usual collection days.

One suggestion is that collection centers be established in the schools and that children riding buses bring their bundles of wastepaper by this means for deposit at the schools. This matter will be discussed with the school authorities and if approved will become effective for the monthly collection in September.

The next monthly collection for Cumberland and vicinity will be held August 29, 30, 31 and September 1. The sections to be canvassed will be similar to those designated for the four-day collection last month.

Johnson Urges Care in Prevention Of Forest Fires

Three Blazes Break Out; Woodland Situation Is Critical

With three forest fires reported in Allegany county in the last three days, William H. Johnson, district forester, yesterday urged that utmost care be taken to prevent further conflagrations.

He asked particularly that tourists and persons traveling through the woods be especially careful not to start fires by careless disposal of cigarettes, cigars and pipe tobacco and pointed out that the forests now are very dry and that the fire hazard is critical.

Recent showers, he said, have been sectional and because of the extreme drought little to alleviate the hazardous situation even where they did occur.

For the first time since the spring fire season, Johnson called attention to the responsibilities of residents of the county under the Forest Conservation act, and reminded that the act prohibits the construction of a fire line ten feet wide around burning operations. He added that the act also provides that sufficient help must be kept on hand during a burning operation to prevent the flames from spreading and getting out of control.

The largest of the three fires reported over the weekend, Johnson said, occurred yesterday at Belle Grove when four acres of woodland were burned over. The fire, he added, was caused by brush burning and started about 1:30 p. m. It was controlled after two hours of firefighting.

The second largest fire of the weekend took place Saturday on Dan's mountain and burned over about three acres of woodland before it was controlled. This fire, Johnson said, was caused by careless smokers.

One and one-half acres of forest land were burned over Sunday near Trench Creek bridge on Route 51, Johnson reported. He added that this blaze also was caused by careless smokers.

Two Cumberland Men Play Heroic Roles with AFS

Mackey and Whiting Brave Mines, Shellfire To Evacuate Wounded

Two Cumberlanders are listed among the twenty-eight Marylanders, who wanted to serve badly enough in World War II to pay for the privilege of joining the American Field Service, according to a feature article by Keith Saunders, appearing on the editorial page of yesterday's Baltimore Evening Sun. They are:

John P. Mackey, son of Mrs. Henry A. Mackey, 515 Washington street.

Francis B. Whiting, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Brooke Whiting, 632 Washington street.

Unable to get into any branch of military service because of physical defects or age, these twenty-eight Marylanders, ranging in age from 18 to 47 years, have braved mine fields and shellfire in evacuating wounded personnel in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Syria, India and Burma in the past four years.

Left School To Enlist

Whiting was graduated from Tome school, Fort Deposit, Md., in 1927, and received an A.B. degree from the University of Virginia in 1941. Classified 4-F because of an asthmatic condition, he was in a second year of law school at the University of Virginia when he enlisted with the AFS in October, 1942.

Two months later he was sent overseas and drove an ambulance for the Fighting French in North Africa until after the defeat of Marshal Rommel.

Sees Plenty Action

Mackey, a former employee of the Cumberland Times and Allegany County, who attended school at Georgetown university, has been with the AFS less than three months but has already seen plenty of action. Moving up in the wake of the Allied advance in Italy, his ambulance has been hit several times by shrapnel and machine guns in a convoy in which several ambulances were hit and damaged.

Mackey's brother, Pvt. Henry, is with the United States Marine Corps, and Whiting's sister, Ensign Anne Frances Whiting is a member of the WAVES.

Must Wear Uniforms

Men of the AFS have to buy their own uniforms when they enlist, and the only pay they receive for their service is $20 a month.

All but one of the group are married.

Local Board No. 2 sent Berkeley Ford Phillips, 109 Frederick street; David Clinton Coffman, 439 Bond street; Rodney Price Hambleton, Braddock, Pa.; DeWarren Howard O'Neal, rear 132 Reynolds street; Paul Leo Casper, 214 Grand street; Joseph D. $65,350,000 PAID IN LUMP-SUMS UNDER SOCIAL SECURITY

The government has paid lump-sums amounting to $65,350,000 on accounts of 450,000 workers who died leaving no survivors entitled to monthly benefits.

Henry M. Millhouse, manager of the Cumberland office of the Social Security Board, 309 Post Office building, explains that, under the Social Security act, provision is made for one lump-sum-death payment to certain relatives of a worker who was insured under the act and who died leaving no widow, child or other survivors entitled to monthly benefits.

Survivors who may claim a lump-sum payment include: the widow, widower, children, grandchildren, parents and, if there is no such relative, the person or persons who paid the burial expenses of the deceased. In such cases, the lump-sum payment will be paid more than six times the deceased worker's primary benefit.

Upon receiving a claim for benefits, the Social Security Board examines the wage record or Social Security account of the deceased worker. If this shows that he had earned wages in covered employment to justify a primary insurance benefit of, say, $30 a month, the lump-sum payment would amount to six times $30, or $180.

Any resident of this area who has reason to believe that he is entitled to a lump-sum payment of monthly benefits should go to the local Social Security office.
